DALY CITY's new reservoir, No. 6 in Westlake Unit 11 west of Skyline, will be fully operational next week, according to City Engineer Bill Chapman. The $100,000 tank, shown in its various stages of construction, merely needs finishing touches to be pronounced complete. Built by E. M. Penn Construction Company and financed by builders Doelger, Callan and McKeon, the reservoir holds 1,500,000 gallons. The city will repay the builders under a long-term agreement. City Reservoir 5, in the Palisades, is the largest reservoir here. It's capacity is 1,578,000 gallons.

COUNCIL WANTS 'FACTS' ON CALLAN PARK PLANS

Council Cites United Stand On Freeway

Daly City councilmen, before a jammed Chamber filled almost entirely with Westlake residents, Monday night made it perfectly clear that they weren't about to change their earlier announced position favoring the Junipero Serra freeway proposal.

Attorney John Schaeffer, a member of the Daly City Planning Commission and a spokesman at prior meetings against all Westlake freeway considerations, got the council to reaffirm its position for the Y-T Junipero Serra route proposal and asked that they go on record against any further public hearings.

Schaeffer said there was much "fear and uncertainty" in the minds of "25,000 western residents of Daly City" about recent proposals made by builder Chris McKeon of St. Francis Heights for a Skyline freeway that would start in San Francisco, follow Brotherhood Way and skirt Lake Merced north of Westlake. Schaeffer said the council should again explain its stand for the Junipero Serra route—a position confirmed by the city freeway committee and presented as Daly City's official thinking at the public hear-

JUDGE BLUM AIDS YOUTH'S TRIP TO IKE

Superior Court Judge Frank Blum, a Westlake resident and former city attorney here, returned to his old stomping grounds Monday night — Daly City Hall.

Blum asked for and the council granted a $250 outlay to help finance the trip of Jefferson High senior Richard Lair, 17, of 12 Fairview avenue, to President Eisenhower's National Youth Conference in Washington, D.C., March 27-April 4.

Young Lair and Elisa Varni, a Mercy High junior from Burlingame, are San Mateo County's first-ever representatives to the big conference. The teen pair will depart by air on March 26.

Richard's dad, Clarence, is head of Jeff High's science department. Brother Jimmy, 16, attends Westmoor and Mike, 9, is a student at Vista Mar.

In other agenda business, the council:

1. Set May 9 for public hearing on two small annexations—the requests of Garrone and Del Monte for three lots in the Castle tract, and a petition on the Nolan property in the $75 Homestead. Bernard Etcheverry represents both applicants.

2. Approved calling for bids on 14-inch transmission line from water well No. 12 in Colma.

3. Accepted City Engineer Chapman's 1960 street deficiency report for submission to the state.

4. Accepted completion of concrete block municipal garage at Citrus and Niantic streets. Final payment will be made within 35 days.

5. Agreed to relinquish a portion of the frontage road west of Skyline at Mar Vista Stables area to state. They city has no use for this road at present.

6. Approved by resolution unappropriated surplus outlay of $7471 for surging water well No. 12 at 2nd and B streets in Colma.

7. Unanimously approved Ricco Lagomarsino's application for variance to reduce the lot size from 2500 square feet minimum on the northeast corner of Willits street and Vista Grande avenue. The planning commission last week split, 3-2, in approving the change. Rich-

FIREMEN ASK WAGES EQUAL TO POLICE

The two biggest items on the Daly City personnel board's agenda last Thursday night in a marathon, 4½ hour meeting were a discussion on allowing contact lenses for police officer candidates, and a proposal by fire department representatives that their salaries be comparable to those of police personnel.

Three optometrists spoke on the merits of contact lenses. The personnel board asked for more discussion at their next meeting.

Fireman Charles Christian, president of the Police and Fire Association, suggested that all fire department salaries should be increased to match those of comparable police assignments. Many firemen attended the session along with Chief Elmer Kennedy.

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi declared he didn't think the two departments' salaries could be comparable—a position he has held for many years. Petrocchi said he wasn't against raising firemen's salaries, but he thought that comparing them to police wages isn't proper because the jobs involve different responsibilities.

The personnel board again ordered further discussion on the matter.

HEARING NEXT MONDAY

Request Builders To Define What City Can Expect

Daly City councilmen generally agreed Monday night that there must be some "teeth" in their negotiations with Callan Builders on the proposed annexation of the intended "Callan Park" multi-million dollar development.

Meeting with Tom Callan Jr. and his attorney, Frank Rose, after the regular council meeting, the council asked the builders for definition as soon as possible on major street layout, water, sewage and drainage plans for the 871-acre tract. Simultaneously the council noted that next Monday's public hearing on the annexation proposal would merely be the first step toward concrete talks about the basic guarantees the city would demand in deciding on the annexation.

Rose repeated that the Callans were prepared to make a written annexation agreement, and that his clients would try to pinpoint what is planned for the tract for immediate council deliberation.

The Callans' attorney said they had developed a tentative land-use plan and street map and would submit these to expedite the negotiations.

City Manager Edward Frank and City Attorney Paul Hupf emphasized that many facets of the Callan proposal had to be explored to determine the timetable of the development, the amount of city services required, water and sewage cost factors, and provisions for certain parcels within the tract for municipal use — such as parks and fire stations.

Councilman Joseph Verducci said "many problems must be examined before we consent to this annexation."

"I feel these problems must be tied down by a written agreement — the practice we have used in the past with other builders," Verducci added.

Verducci declared that the city's subdivision ordinance "is not strong, thus a written agreement would supplement the basic guarantees the city needs in considering any annexation."

He continued that a written agreement by the Callans would cover major items not provided for in the subdivision ordinance.

Mayor Edward Dennis agreed that water service for the big tract was a considerable problem. Councilman Bob St. Clair noted that major street locations were essential in the talks and that it was the council's intention to obtain exact Master Plan land-use designations

MOTEL BANDITS TAKE $1100

Daly City police today are still seeking the two "calm" bandits who Wednesday night last week got $1100 from Mission Bell Motel, 6843 Mission street.

The pair, both of whom had "inquired" at the motel about lodging earlier in the evening, entered at 9:11 p.m. and forced the clerk, Mrs. Lee Ranbo, 47, to give them the contents of two cash registers — $1100 in all. They departed in a blue and white, two-tone hardtop '58 sedan.

Joseph DeLeon, 426 Willits street, reported the robbery. He was driving into the motel area when the pair left the office. Glen Cooper, 15, a resident of the motel, along with Mrs. Ranbo was forced by the robbers to sit and watch TV in an adjoining room while the latter emptied the cash registers.

Police were told the bandit who wielded a .32 caliber revolver was about 6-1, slender, 30 to 35 years old, and had a one-inch scar on the left side of his face. His accomplice was described as 5-9, about 150 pounds, also in the same age bracket, and in general wearing "dirty sports clothing."

The taller intruder removed his coat during the episode, apparently to make outsiders think he was the clerk on duty, and he tied Mrs. Ranbo's ankles with a handkerchief before leaving, according to the report made by Officer R. C. Sims.

James Wilson, day clerk at the motel, told police a pair fitting the same description had come to the motel office about 8 p.m. and asked about motels in the area. They said they might come back if they couldn't find lodging elsewhere.

Fire Levels Old Meussdorffer Mansion -- Center Of School Site

A fire of undetermined origin that brought spectators from miles around and required the quick services of almost 70 firemen Sunday evening destroyed the vacant old Meussdorffer mansion on the southeast corner of Whittier and Bellevue streets.

Fortunately only one person was injured, Company 6 volunteer fireman Richard Allard, 27, 140 Werner avenue. He fell from a ladder while climbing toward the top floor of the antiquated, three-story structure. Allard is in St. Mary's Hospital and may remain there two weeks. He broke an ankle and hurt his knee.

It took Daly City regulars, some 30 volunteer firemen and San Francisco units only 45 minutes to douse the roaring conflagration, but Chief Elmer Kennedy ordered round-the-clock surveillance of the demolished residence to guard against additional smoulderings. Firemen were still cleaning up the debris Monday morning.

Colma firemen assisted by taking over Daly City duty stations and many Daly City regulars, then off duty, reported back for work.

Fire Bttn. Chief Wayne Alexander supervised the emergency operation, one that produced a large throng of onlokers. Kennedy said the old mansion had been a hazard since it was vacated by elderly Irene Meussdorffer about three weeks ago to make rom for a new elementary school site, George Washington K-6.

Leonetti Construction Company, which is clearing the park-like property for the school district, the past few weeks frequently has notified firemen and police that many youngsters had invaded the LEVELED by flames and still smoking Monday morning was the old Meussdorffer mansion on Bellevue and Whittier streets. The man with the hose, of course, is a Daly City fireman. An investigation is continuing to determine the cause of the Sunday evening blaze.

Planners Split 3-2 On Rezoning McKeon's 'Center'

On motion of John Schaeffer, the Daly City planning commission by split vote last week instructed the city attorney to draft a resolution for rezoning McKeon Company's 24½-acre intended shopping center property fronting Junipero Serra from C-1 back to unclassified.

Schaeffer, supported by chairman Dick Dwyer and Tony Masini, reasoned that McKeon's Junipero Serra frontage two years ago was condemned by the state for the proposed freeway and that this meant the shopping center there was out of the question. Dwyer noted also that McKeon recently has been granted other commercial zoning for a shopping center southwest of the Junipero Serra property.

Commissioners Art Colvin and Roy Foster voted against Schaeffer's proposal. Neither made any comments, however, according to the official minutes of the session.

Another Schaeffer proposal that McKeon be instructed to remove the "misleading" $300,000,000 shopping center sign on the Junipero Serra property was held off. The commission felt it would wait to see what freeway route will be recommended by the State Highway Division's San Francisco office on Thursday next week.

The resolution for the McKeon rezoning will be presented to the planners for action at their next meeting.

Brain Tumor Fatal To Colma Student

Funeral services at W. C. Lasswell and Company of Daly City paid final tribute last Thursday to John Leo Banfield, 10-year-old Colma School fifth grader who died from a brain tumor on March 8 at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Oakland.

A member of his family said the youngster had undergone three brain surgery operations.

John was the son of Alfred and Lena Banfield, 240 Second avenue, Daly City. Other survivors are his brothers, Charles and Alfred Banfield; his sisters, Mrs. Nancy Montgomery and Mrs. Louise Haley, and his grandparents, Emilio and Johanna Cortesi.

Burial was at Olivet Memorial Park.

CONTRACTOR DEFAULTS ON SCHOOL JOB

Jefferson Elementary District trustees Monday night declared contractors E. H. Moore and Sons in default and unable to complete their construction contract on Fernando Rivera Elementary School north of Westlake Park.

Attorney for the contractor earlier informed the board that the builder wasn't able to meet his payroll and sub-contractors expenses. A similar letter came from the New Hampshire Fire Insurance bonding company, indicating Moore's plight and confirming that it would select another contractor to complete the 12 classroom school.

Public Hearing On Land-Use Plan Set By City Commission

Daly City planning commissioners last week set Tuesday night, March 29, for public hearing on proposed changes in the city's Land-Use Plan. Eight o'clock is the starting time.

Fred Barber of the survey firm of Hahn, Wise and Barber will be present to discuss the modifications — most of which were suggested by citizens in prior meetings of the planning commission and city council.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS GET PAY BOOSTS

High school trustees Monday night approved 5 percent salary increases for 157 certificated teachers, effective this July 1.

Supt. Ed Morgan said the boost would add $67,000 to the district's teacher payroll, running next school year's total to $1,512,031 for classroom instructors alone.

The new schedule reduces the number of pay steps from 13 to 12 and offers a minimum-maximum salary range of $5400-$9300. The present schedule's 13-step range is $5150-$8990.

COUNCIL NIXES $5000 CLAIM

Daly City councilmen, on advice of City Attorney Paul Hupf, Monday night rejected a $5000 personal injury claim filed by Edward Lewis Baker, 50, of 156 Los Olivos avenue.

Baker claims he was injured the night of January 3 this year by police officers Steve Steen and Tom Culley when the latter answered a family disturbance call. Baker was arrested on charges of assault and battery (against the cops) and for disturbing the peace.

The incident began when Baker's wife, La Rita Baker, went to police headquarters and asked police protection and assistance in removing her belongings from the home. The officers' report said Baker was belligerent and attempted to stop them as they tried to back his truck out of the driveway so that Mrs. Baker could remove her car from the garage.

8. Granted business licenses to: Douglas Smith, to conduct insurance office at 6178 Mission street; Robert Martindale, to conduct a cleaning agency at 7389 Mission, and received the planning commission's notice approving a business license for Anita Lopez, 449 Hillside boulevard, to operate launderette at 6165 Mission.

9. Granted dance permit to Village Nursery School for use of Westlake Auditorium April 30.

10. Granted use permit to Frank Martorana to construct apartment-type building on southwest corner of Vista Grande avenue and Hillside boulevard.

11. Granted use permit to R. Shedadeh, 8131 Geary boulevard, for operation of coin-operated laundromat at 7388 Mission street.

12. Approved use permit application of Albert Jestadt for installation of a muffler shop at 1971 Junipero Serra boulevard. The State Division of Highways indicated this area would not be interrupted by any proposed freeway routes.

13. Filed letter from Westlake Improvement Association in which WIA asked that council stand firm on its Y-T Junipero Serra freeway position.

14. Canceled a $301.08 warrant which was paid erroneously.

mansion and that it was an attractive nuisance that could bring trouble.

Kennedy said the Meussdorffer residence was built some 70 years ago by John Meussdorffer, internationally known hat maker. Irene Meussdorffer lived alone in the home many years before she agreed to sell the tree-surrounded property to the school district.

Ladies of DC's Fire Department Auxiliary assisted the fire fighters Sunday evening by rushing pots of hot coffee to the scene. Among those who helped were the Mesdames Andy Conaty, Dick May, Richard Verducci, Allan Brush, Alexander, and Mrs. Betty Malcomb.

Cop Captures Two Violators

Officer James Bergstrom Sunday night picked up a Westlake man on a Northern Judicial District Court Warrant charging drunken driving. On the way to the police station Bergstrom apprehended another drunk driving violator from the east side of the city.

Bergstrom picked up Thomas B. Smith, 47, 1320 South Mayfair avenue, a salesman, on the court warrant Sunday at 8:30 p.m. Approximately 15 minutes later, while bringing Smith to the police station, Bergstrom spotted a car continually crossing over to the wrong side of the street.

He then arrested Charles Gut, 59, 562 Abbot street, a steelworker, on charges of drunk driving. Since he already had one prisoner, Bergstrom asked for help. Officer Tom Culley brought Gut to the station. A sobriety test was administered.

Smith was released on $500 bail, Gut on $525. Both are to appear in court in South San Francisco this week.

said the sub-contractors are still on the job and that the insurance company-appointed new builder would soon be selected.

Mid-State Construction, second lowest bidder at $450,000, (Moore and Sons got the contract for almost $40,000 less), probably will assume the job, Foster indicated. There will be a minimum of delay.

The school, designed by architect Mario Ciampi, is about 30 per cent complete and a late August completion date is anticipated.

The letter from the New Hampshire firm indicated that Moore and Sons also had defaulted on two other school construction projects.

Police Block Drunk Driver; Bail Is $1100

Bail was set at $1100 for Frank L. Hottel, 47, 688 A Morse street, San Francisco, after he was arrested by Daly City police Saturday evening and charged with drunk driving and unlawful use of a license.

Officer Tom Culley received a report from the man's estranged wife, Fay Bryan, 94 Mar Vista drive, that Hottel was intoxicated and attempting to drive from the scene after creating a disturbance.

Colley saw a number of people chasing after Hottel's car when he arrived at the scene. He blocked the path of the auto with the police car. Hottel had another man's driving license in his possession and it was later found out that Hottel's own license had been suspended, police said.

Hottel reportedly has a number of drunk driving charges against him in San Francisco, thus the high bail amount of $1100. He refused to take a blood test here following his arrest.

Hillside PTA

Hillside PTA, serving Colma K-6 and Colma Intermediate schools, will hold its monthly unit meeting on March 24 at 8 p.m. in the multi-use room of Colma School. The program will feature seventh and eighth garde student activities, which will include the student council in action, a discussion of the Block C program, special dance group, and the cheering girls group.

The meeting will be opened by Mrs. Martha Dignam's Girl Scout Troop 127 presenting the colors. Mrs. Rita Poole, hospitality chairman, will be assisted by fourth and fivth grade mothers serving refreshments.

President Don Lesher extends an invitation to all parents and friends to attend.

3 Appliance Thieves Are Nabbed Here

Three men who reportedly stole $6000 worth of kitchen appliances from the McKeon Construction Company storage building on January 31 were apprehended by Daly City police inspectors Thursday evening.

Arraigned in municipal court Tuesday were: Dale Dean Wiedman, 22, 72 Thiers street, Daly City, a truck driver; Henry Charles Parsons, 22, 324 Commercial drive, South San Francisco, a pressman; and Nicholas T. Kosta, 24, 1187 Geneva avenue, San Francisco, unemployed.

Leading the roundup and arrests were Captain Roy Beecher, Lieutenant Bruno Conci, Sergeant Charles Terry, Officer Raph Warren and Officer George Brooks.

Beecher said the man took the appliances to Kosta's house and then abandoned the truck. The $5000 truck was found two weeks later in San Francisco. All of the materials were then solld.

Police recovered five dishwashers, four ovens, three ranges and three range hoods from the persons who bought the appliances, not knowing they had been stolen. One of each item is still missing, Beeacher said.

Tot, 4, Struck By Auto Here Is Hospitalized

Daniel Timko, age 4, was hospitalized with reported head injuries Wednesday last week about 4:30 p.m. after he was struck by a car at the corner of Bismark and Mission streets.

Investigating officers R. C. Sims and Richard deLosa said the driver of the auto, Rinaldo N. Gregori, 62, a janitor who lives in San Francisco at 143 Lee avenue, did not have a vehicle operator's license in his possession.

According to the police report, the youngster, who lives at 34 Bismark, ran into the left rear fender of the car—its left rear wheel going over his legs. Gregori reportedly was driving west on Bismark at the time and claimed he did not see the boy until after the mishap.

Jeff High Decision

State Department of Finance officials will hear Daly City school authorities Monday in Sacramento on the cost of renovating or rebuilding at Jefferson High.

Representing the Jefferson High School District will be Superintendent Ed Morgan, Architect Mario Ciampi, and Don Knorr. Morgan said the department of education has approved plans for renovation and rebuilding, not taking a stand on either side of the issue.

Hod Carrier Arrested In $4698 Burglary

Everything from cologne to lingeries, including a hi-fi console set and mink coat, were taken from the home of Keiko Sewell, 27, 25 Alexander street, Daly City, between 3 p.m. Friday and 2 a.m. Saturday.

J. C. Loggins, 38, 904 Haight street, San Francisco, was picked up by Daly City police inspectors Sergeant Charles Terry and George Brooks for the $4698 burglary.

The two policemen stopped Loggins at Pierce and Page streets in San Francisco while he was driving the yellow Cadillac that was described by two teenage girls, who had spotted the car on Alexander. The two sisters had returned from dates at midnight and 12:25 a.m. Saturday.

Terry ordered Loggins to open the trunk. Loggins said he left the key "at home." The sergeant said he would try to pry the trunk open, but then Loggins "found" the key to it. Some of the stolen articles were found inside while others were discovered at the suspect's home.

Loggins insisted throughout that he bought everything from a man called "Littleman" for $26. The hod carrier was arrested and amount of bail was not known at the time of arrest.

Mrs. Sewell gave a two-page, type-written list of materials that were taken, to Officer Ralph Warren who conducted the original investigation. She said that all windows and doors had been secured when she left the house. When she returned, the front door was found open.

FREEWAY

ing held by the state in South San Francisco.

Mayor Edward Dennis answered Schaeffer's request thusly:

"There is no question that we (the council) will deviate from our position for the Y-T route. The State Highway Division office in San Francisco has said it will announce on March 24 the route it is recommending to the Highway Commission for adoption. If this decision is adverse to what the council wants for Daly City, then we will ask for another hearing with the state."

Heavy applause followed Dennis' statement, then Councilman Francis Pacelli, chairman of the city freeway committee, added:

"The council was unanimously on record for the Y-T Junipero Serra route and there is no need for additional hearings to consider other route proposals.

Dennis asked the three other councilmen for comments, but they briefly assented that the city's position was unanimous.

Chris McKeon, who last week in the San Francisco press exchanged heated quotes with Pacelli, did not attend Monday night's council meeting, nor did any of his representatives make any comment on Schaeffer's remarks.

Late last week McKeon filed a $100,000 defamation suit against three members of the San Francisco Committee To Study Freeways, charging them with "untrue remarks and insinuations" on McKeon's actions as chairman of the SF committee.

McKeon maintains that the Skyline freeway proposal merits serious consideration by the state. He says it will not uproot any homes, it would be cheaper to finance, and that it is a more natural route considering traffic routing needs.

A press release this week from the North San Mateo County Citizens Freeway Committee said the total number of "north County residents backing the Skyline proposals is approximately 30,000."

The press release declared that the North County Committee "has received copies of resolutions and petitions requesting a new public hearing from Country Club Estates, Buri Buri Women's Club, Avalon Pines subdivision, Paradise Valley Improvement Association, Mayfair Community Club, Avalon Park Improvement Association, and Junipero Serra Hospital."

It continued: "The most prevalent statements favoring the new routing are: 1) Skyline would best serve all of the communities, including Pacifica, on the orthern Peninsula; 2) No residential or commercial property would have to be acquired for this route thus eliminating costly condemnation proceedings; 3) Much taxable land would remain on the assessment roles of San Mateo County; and 4) removal of Junipero Serra Hospital, as necessitated in some of the proposals under study, would virtually eliminate emergency hospital facilities in the area."

Some sources believe the State Highway Division office in San Francisco has forwarded its route recommendation in Sacramento. J. P. Sinclair, assistant state engineer in charge, said he will publicly announce his recommendation Thursday next week for Callan Park in its entirety. St. Clair suggested that South San Francisco and Pacifica also should be informed of Callan's street development plans.

Callan Park

Hupf stressed the brevity of Callan's proposals at present, telling them that the proposed development would put a burden on city services and therefore the council needed immediate definition of what areas would be developed first, water, sewage and street provisions, and fire and police coverage anticipations.

Verducci asked who would pay for sewage, in particular, noting that Sanitation District officials are contemplating a new $1 million plant near Mussel Rock to serve the southwesterly Westlake areas, south of St. Francis Heights and the Callan Park lands. Verducci also reminded that drainage problems in the Callan Park area long had been unresolved, and "what about this problem."

The council agreed to Verducci's suggestion that unless all the problems were fully discussed in advance, and legal and technical factors were studied by the city, no agreement could be arrived at that would be beneficial to the city as a whole.

Councilman Francis Pacelli pointed out that the city would still "be in control" of the annexation decision even after the public hearing is closed. He said there would be plenty of time to work out the problems for an agreement before the second reading of the proposed annexation ordinance was held.

Hupf said if subsequently submitted street and subdivision maps forwarded by the Callans do not meet city council approval for pratical landvisions, then the council could use and essential services provide hold up and even reject the annexation.

The city attorney said that the water, drainage and sewage factors should be a part of the annexation agreement to bolster the subdivision ordinance. Hupf said provisions for firehouses, park sites and community facilities are not in the subdivision ordinance, therefore these should be sought via a written agreement. Legality of such written agreements may be challenged in some areas, Hupf declared, but in general these agreements are beneficial and protect the city in obtaining needed facilities and services that new subdivisions necessitate.

Schools are were brought up as one of the problems that must be resolved. Although Rose said he didn't feel this was a factor because Callan Park lies within other school districts, the council feels all school districts involved should be notified and their recommendations weighed.

Supt. Richard Foster and the Jefferson Elementary School board attended Monday's council-Callan meet and indicated they very much were concerned about the new tract that at present is outside the local school district.

Foster said the board instructed him to ask the council to have the Callans discuss school needs in Callan Park.

Foster reminded that under the state education code, anytime 25 percent of the people in a certain area petition for a school district boundary change or redistricting, the county superintendent of schools can call a hearing and recommend to supervisors an election to determine if the new area should be redistricted as a school entity. The people who would occupy the Callan Park development, Foster suggested, might want their schools in a district that is consistent with their city's boundaries.

South San Francisco School District two weeks ago wrote a letter to both the Daly City council and the JESD asking that consideration be given to redistricting the Callan tract to the Daly City district. The SSF board feels SSF residents shouldn't have to pay for schools located in another city.

Joseph Lewkowitz, chairman of Jeff Elementary school board, asked the council why the school district hadn't been informed by the city about the Callan Park annexation negotiations. Hupf replied that the city clerk had been instructed to notify all the affected school districts, and Mayor Dennis said he would check to see why this wasn't done.

JESD officials, it is believed, disfavor the redistricting of the Callan tract into their district because this would reduce the amount of money the JESD gets per child for education purposes.

Foster said he and Supt. Edward Morgan of the high school district have asked Callan to meet with them this Friday morning to discuss the schools' concern.

Scooter Accident

Raymond D. Davis, 27, 300 Fredrick street, San Francisco, was taken to Junipero Serra Hospital by M&D Ambulance Saturday at 5:40 p.m. after his motor scooter skidded on the railway tracks on Mission near Castle street, according to Officer Richard Sims.

Davis was unseated from the vehicle and landed hard on the pavement.

W'lake Thefts

Police apprehended seven boys for taking part in a series of auto thefts from the Westlake Bowl parking area last Friday night and will have the names of two more by this Friday, Sergant Jack Walsh said today.

At 7:15 p.m. Officers Matthew Murray and Philip LaBruzzo apprehended two 16-year-olds a 17 and a 15-year-old girl. Two are juniors at Westmoor, one is a Westmoor sophomore, and one is a Jefferson freshman. The arrests cleared at last six car thefts in the Westlake area.

Special Officers Carr and Baux notified Officer James Sunderland who picked up three other boys at 11:30 p.m. The special officers, staked out, saw one of the boys tampering with an auto's trunk lid at the parking area near Lake Merced boulevard and Southgate avenue. His two friends were cited for being out after the curfew.

The other five boys were given citations to Hillcrest Juvenile Detention Home and released to the custody of their parents.

'BOMB' PLANTERS ARE PENALIZED

Four non-conforming Westmoor High School students have been "dealt with" for breaking about 16 windows worth $2400 at the school over the past month.

Daly City police said three of the delinquents are in Hillcrest Juvenile Hall and the fourth was suspended from school for 10 days.

It is also belived that two of the four malcontents were responsible for planting a "dud" bomb at Westmoor on January 21 this year. The window breaking episodes followed the suspension of the two Westmoor students from the class of one teacher who didn't like their behavior and attitudes. The bomb subsequently planted at Westmoor was interpreted to reflect the pair's dissatisfaction with the teacher who reprimanded them.

COPS CHARGE TRUCK DRIVER

A phone installer who backed out of a driveway at 77 Larkspur street near Higate drive was cited for unsafe backing of a vehicle into a public street by Officer Jim Sunderland last Monday at 4 p.m.

He backed his truck into a car driven by Esther T. Turcott, 38, 770 Higate drive. The woman complained of pain and was limping. She was transported to Junipero Serra Hospital where she was treated. She returned home with her husband.

High School Officials Study 'Reading & Writing' Problems

By Lou Lucia

Jefferson High School District trustee Robert Rockstein is sure that "Johnny can read," but wants to know if there is some way of helping "Johnny to read and write better."

At Monday's meeting, Dr. John Ivan, director of curriculum and instruction, and Barbara Schmidt and Evelyn Slater, English department heads of Jefferson and Westmoor, attempted to find a solution to the problem.

The trio were invited to the board meeting by Superintendent Ed Morgan when Dr. Rockstein asked if the use of "readers" would help English teachers at the school. Dr. Rockstein noted that many schools use outside "readers" to correct papers and if the district were to use such a device, possibly more essay type examinations and exercises could be given.

Dr. Ivan started the discussion by stating, "The use of a 'reading' program is like an aspirin to a headache—it doesn't cure the real cause. For an English teacher to work over 100 themes handed in by students is hard. However, there has been no solidity behind the movement for readers. The system hasn't been exploited fully to find if the amount expended for pay and what is earned by the student is adequate.

"A clerical assistant to type tests, record grades and do other normal mechanics that are expected of an English teacher might be of great help. In this way, the teacher's time would be freed for correction of themes," Dr. Ivan said.

He concluded, "Studies have shown that readers do not always save time and are not always sufficient in grading."

The two women department heads noted, "Time is the main element. Classes have been so large that objective tests rather than essay tests are often given."

John Mongan, principal at Jefferson High School, added, "A time indication shows that a teacher with a normal work load would be correcting essay examinations for 38 hours during the week."

Dr. Ivan interjected, "Most readers are only good in mechanics of English where some teachers are looking for philosophic content or creativity in presentation. The fewer students in a classroom, the better the rapport between English teacher and student."

Mrs. Schmidt noted that English is a subject that carries over to other subjects. Essay examinations also can be valuable in history and other allied subjects where writing and comprehension come into play, she stated.

She, along with Mongan, noted the brevity with which students speak. Students seem to have difficulty carrying on a conversation, answering "yes" or "no." Both said there was a tendency for students to answer only their first name when asked who they were.

Dr. Rockstein said, "There seems to be a general conclusion that more writing is needed."

Dr. Ivan clarified, "More help is needed in order to make the writing that is done more effective."

The board said they would deliberate on the matter and asked the department heads, along with Mongan and Westmoor Principal Glenn South and Dr. Ivan, to forward some concrete recommendations.

PLEASE, SONNY! DON'T WHISTLE AT MY DOOR

"Whistle While You Work" was a popular song 20 years ago but putting it into practice in Westlake may start a war.

A 63-year-old Oaklawn drive woman complained to police that her newspaper boy whistles when he delivers. This is somewhat annoying to the woman as the boy makes his deliveries at 5:30 a.m. daily.

She told Officer Steve Steen that the boy has been spoken to by several neighbors and although complaints have been made to the San Francisco newspaper office, the boy refuses to quit whistling. She contacted the newspaper boy Thursday and told him to stop whistling.

She added that Friday through Monday he not only whistled but started shouting, too. Police said they would look into the case.

'Deadline' Is OK But Don't Wait!

What is a "deadline"?

In newspaper terminology, it means the last time any item or story may be turned in for publication.

Publicity chairmen are reminded that "deadline" doesn't mean this is the only time news copy should be submitter. In order to assure placement in each week's issues, publicity chairmen should bring copy in well ahead of the deadline.

Thursdays and Fridays are the best days to submit copy to the newspaper office, 3317 San Jose avenue, Daly City. A last-minute flood of copy on Monday's deadline day makes it impossible for the editorial staff to use all items in that week's publications.

25 Teachers Approved For Tenure Here

Twenty-five individuals in Jefferson High School District were granted tenure Monday by the board of trustees. Tenure, explained Superintendent Ed Morgan, means that an individual can't be dismissed from the district without justifiable cause.

Eighteen faculty members were presented with third-year contracts and 32 teachers were approved for their second contracts in this district.

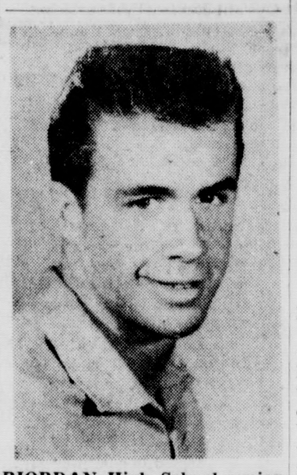
Those receiving tenure were:

Jefferson: Joseph Bava, Vera Fitzgerald, Richard Landucci, Richard Larsen, Joe Maxwell and Elsie Rose.

Westmoor: Ruth Brown, Philip Capitolo, Phyllis Colbert, Rodney Crittendon, Floyd Gonella, Richard Hart, Maryann Holden, Doris Lindfors, Evans Maionchi, Peter Matisi, Shirley Minaker, Louis Moore, Margaret Riggs, Lavon Shea and Sylvia Smith.

District Offices: Arthur Carr and Fred Goodell.

Adult Education: Margaret Griffith and Katherine Seghetti.



RIORDAN High School senior John Mahoney, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mahoney of 255 Bellevue avenue, Daly City, has achieved finalist status in the National Merit Scholarship program. He is among 10,000 United States students who advanced in the competition that started with a field of 550,000 students.

Resident Says Council Meeting Like Stacked Deck Poker Game

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

The obviously premeditated, preplanned, so called voice of the people (and in this case possibly a minority group voice at that) as heard Monday night in the Daly City Council Chambers leaves much to be desired.

A stacked deck in a poker game as a command testimonial at a Council meeting to serve the political aspirations of politicians cannot be tolerated for long without breaking up "the game."

The public ridicule of our local newspapers which have printed the many facets of the freeway story and the many other sad stories relating to our city government naturally falls into the broad scope of "free speech," which we are all entitled to—Thank God—here in America.

However, it is about time—for time is running out—that the many people in our city band together to demand better planning and better operations of our city's business to insure "the best for the most."

Many of us trust and pray that you will continue to tell the whole story, the unadulterated story and all the stories as they realy exist.

Yours very truly,
Robert E. Smice

Ralph Warren Sgt. Benedetti Are Praised

(This letter, originally sent to Police Chief Roland Petrochi, was reviewed last week by the Personnel Commission. The commission, in turn, sent a copy to Marchbanks Publications.)

Dear Chief:

On behalf of the Salvation Army Service Committee I would like to commend and thank your Officer Ralph Warren and Sergeant Rico Benedetti for their kindness and consideration in aiding Mrs. Pauline Lundak, 6205 Mission street, Daly City, in obtaining ambulance service and hospital care.

Mrs. Lundak was receiving emergency care from the Salvation Army Service Committee and was seriously ill without friends or family in this area. She described to Mrs. Anna Ingersoll the courteous and gracious attitude of the above-mentioned officers.

Many times police officers are looked upon by the general public as men solely responsible for citizen's obedience to the law. Few people realize the many acts of mercy and thoughtfulness performed by police officers. We believe our expression of thanks will partly repay these officers for their humane consideration.

Sincerely yours,
John Mongan

Jefferson Teacher Recovering From Heart Seizure

Dr. Harry Green, husband of Jefferson High faculty member Mrs. Mildred Green, has informed high school district officials that Mrs. Green was progressing nicely following a heart attack she suffered approximately two weeks ago.

She was stricken while in France on sabbatical leave. Dr. Green said his wife will be flying home within a few weeks.

Homeported at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, the Tang and her crew are scheduled to participate in various operational exercises and visit Hong Kong, Japan, and the Philippines.

The present Tang is the second submarine of the U.S. Navy to bear the name. The first Tang, during one year in World War II, sank 24 enemy ships for a total of 93,824 tons destroyed.

Brisbane Schools Get Federal Grant

Congressman J. Arthur Younger today announced that the Brisbane School District has been awarded a federal grant of $3169 for the fiscal year 1960 under the aid to federally impacted school districts.

The funds compensate the district for education of children in armed forces, installations and other federal facilities where no school taxes are paid to the district. Exactly $2376 has been certified for immediate cash payment. Younger advised Mrs. Lois J. Barrett, Brisbane superintendent, of the grant by telegram today.

Youth Benefit Boxing Show Here Next Week

Golden Gloves amateur boxers return to Daly City's War Memorial building on Thursday night, March 24, in a program sponsored by the Fathers Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church and the Police Athletic League.

Both groups will use the proceeds for youth activities. Chairman Walt Gillies of OLPH says the first bout starts at 7:45 o'clock. Tickets, available from OLPH members and police officers, are priced at $2 for ringside reserved and $1 general admission.

The last Golden Gloves show here packed the building. A repeat turnout is anticipated next week.

58 High School Teachers Taking Graduate Courses

Fifty-eight teachers in the Jefferson High School District are taking additional courses at universities and colleges for masters degrees and administrative credentials.

Thirty of the teachers are from Westmoor, 28 from Jefferson. Four of the Jefferson teachers are carrying "heavy loads," 7, 8, 9 and 10 units each. Most of the teachers attend San Francisco State College, no doubt because of that school's nearness and concentration on teaching programs.

One Hour Earlier

Meeting of Jefferson Elementary School board next Monday night will start at 7 p.m., Supt. Richard Foster announced today. Trustees will meet one hour earlier because they plan to attend the city council meeting at 8 o'clock.

AROUND TOWN

John Putkey, stalwart Daly City attorney, lost the county Demo central committee nomination Saturday by five votes, 36-31, to ex-news hawk Bob Hargrove.

Councilman Bob St. Clair at the last minute bowed out of the scramble for a 25th Assembly District candidate. The thinking is that St. Clair would have got the nomination had he been willing to run.

Daly City's regular council meeting Monday night established some kind of a precedent here. Despite a capacity crowd, the shortened agenda took only about an hour to complete.

Class dismissed, the council then went into a study session with Callan on annexation, followed still later by a restricted council meeting on policy.

The city personnel board last week went home about 12:30 a.m. Friday—also an endurance mark for that body.

Charles "Bud" Terry, one of the finest police officers in the business and a guy who looks sharp in uniform, deserves a "tough luck, good show" award.

A few weeks ago Sergeant Terry did all the leg work in tracking down an assault suspect. The assignment had him busy around the clock, even missing dinner and sleep at home.

Anyway, after Bud got his man and a good case against him with a fine effort, Terry didn't get the credit he deserved.

Seems Terry was terribly tired from the ordeal, wound it up with an exhaustive report, then trudged home for some overdue shuteye. Meanwhile, another officer signed the report and the news reporter used the latter's name, and not Terry's, as the cop who was most instrumental in the case.

It was an honest oversight, and besides, Terry isn't a publicity hound. But when credit is due, the young sergeant ought to be first in line.

Keith Sorenson, district attorney of San Mateo County, always leaves no room for doubt on how he stands on any issue concerning his domain.

Saturday in Burlingame bespectacled Keith said he favors capital punishment—the death penalty.

Nine out of 10 law enforcement officials also feel this way.

Ann Madsen, former secretary to former public works director Otis Calhoun, has been named secretary to the new city manager, Ed Frank.

A newlywed, Ann is a top worker and combines efficiency with a winning personality.

Two projects giving the city council particular concern are the new Westlake library off Southgate avenue and the new firehouse on Lincoln avenue in Unit 10.

Architect for both jobs, John Gloe, is rather impatient about the delay in approving furniture outlays and other contract essentials. Also restless—same reasons—are the library commission and Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

Who says the "small" field in the city council election is causing lethargy and the precinct response on April 12 will be extremely light?

Look for the campaigning to intensify the next three weeks. In the stretch the candidates roll up their sleeves for some real attention-getting salvos.

It's a good, healthy practice, at that. Without fanfare, voters aren't attracted as much and maybe hundreds won't bother to ballot.

Like anything else, the public wants a good show. It's more interesting that way.

Among the 12,000 victims in the Morocco earthquake disaster was the uncle of Daly City realtors John and Basil Kockos. The hotel in which the Kockos' kin was staying was completely crumbled by the savage tremors.

Gene Lynch of Colma Auto Wreckers wonders who does the most damage—his firm or Daly City firemen.

Lynch donates junk-bound heaps to the firemen who use them to practice accident rescue operations.

Gene says one of his cars was in terrible shape after Elmer Kennedy's standbys got through with it.

Lynch was kidding, of course, Elmer, so don't be false alarmed!

Goal Is $60,000 As Easter Seal Drive In County Gets Rolling

San Mateo County's Easter Seal drive gets under way this Thursday—St. Patrick's Day—when 118,000 sets of Easter Seals will be put in the mail, one set to every home in the county. It is hoped to raise $60,000 from the sale of the Seals to support the work of the Easter Seal Society for Cripple Children and Adults of San Mateo County. The organization operates the Rehabilitation and Research Center at 1764 Marco Polo Way, Burlingame, including the sheltered workshop. Hundreds of handicapped local citizens are being aided by the Center.

Vincent Murphy and U. R. "Jack" Kendree, co-chairmen for Daly City in the drive, urge local residents to send in their checks as soon as possible after the seals are received to insure a high return and record for Daly City. "This is a drive where you can see the work and benefits to the handicapped every day of the year right here at home," Murphy and Kendree declared, "and it deserves all-out support from citizens of the Daly City area."

The Easter Seal Society is one of the few agencies in the county which provides an actual local service with excellent facilities to serve the handicapped and help them live useful, productive lives. A staff of trained therapists is on duty daily to teach and assist. All services are under medical supervision.

The Rehabilitation Center provides speech and hearing therapy, physical therapy, occupational therapy, and operates the workshop for the physically handicapped. Easter Seal sales and other contributions are its sole support.

Brownie Troop's Father-Daughter Event Crowded

Attendance was almost 100 percent for fourth grade Brownie Troop 124 at their recent Father-Daughter dinner in the Coral Room of War Memorial Building. Nineteen fathers and daughters attended.

The little Brownies prepared most of the meal. They received a little help from leader Mrs. Barbara Senkir, and co-leaders Mrs. Anita Spinetti and Mrs. Kay Bogdan. Mrs. Leo Pinnatore also assisted the Girl Scouts.

EXPERT TELLS PTA ABOUT NARCOTICS

Sergeant Frank Browne of the San Francisco Police Department's Narcotics Division captivated his audience of Vista Mar PTA members on March 8 with his dynamic presentation that unveiled some of the mystery surrounding the use of narcotics.

Sergeant Browne showed the parents and teachers what the different narcotics looked like wtih actual photographs of the growing plants. He described how the esesnce of these plants is "harvested" and displayed specimens of the products that are confiscated in the illicit trade. Parents had the opportunity to see the actual equipment used by addicts to inject themselves with the narcotic and to hear a vivid description of the addict's reactions when the narcotic wears off.

"Identification and control of the source and suppliers of narcotics is only one phase of the problem," said Browne. "Understanding the physical and psychological make-up of the addict and controlling the crimes that are perpetrated to support a narcotics habit enlarge the viciousness of the problem."

Parents can protect their children from this menace by exercising firm control over their associations, Browne emphasized. Addicts have usually been delinquent in other respects before they came to the courts' attention on a narcotics charge. Most will admit they became users of narcotics through association with other addicts.

Bob St. Clair, representing the many fathers present for the special Father's Night program, gave the character thought relating to the primary responsibility of parents in rearing their children with the school and teachers as helpers, not substitutes for parental guidance.

The chairman of the Nominating Committee, Mrs. Albert Benezra, presented the names of the candidates selected by the committee for Vista Mar PTA offices for the 1960-1961 term. The candidates were elected by unanimous consent of the membership, and the new officers are: Mrs. Ronald Meyer, president; Mrs. Vincent O'Connor, vice president; Mrs. James Maloney, recording secretary; Mrs. Donald Celle, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Albert Benezra, financial secretary; Mrs. K. Pullizzano, treasurer; Mrs. Robert St. Clair, auditor; and Mrs. Gilbert Morgan, historian.

Agency Offers Group Therapy

Individual life adjustments of women between the ages of 40 and 50 are being met through group therapy programming of the Family Service Agency of San Mateo County, with a new fourth group now being formed.

According to Mrs. Ruth L. Stewart, executive director of this United Crusade - supported agency, members in these small groups of 7 to 9 women find that they are not alone in their problems.

"The problems faced by women in the so-called changing years are varied," said Mrs. Stewart. Among these she mentioned the constructive occupation of time when children are nearly grown, parental relationships with teen-age or young adult sons and daughters, and marital difficulties often related to problems of companionship.

Mrs. Julia W. Coleman will be therapist for the new group. Under her skilled guidance, members attempt to understand themselves better and to find new solutions for their difficulties.

"Our meetings are unique opportunities to examine problems as they crop up," said Mrs. Coleman. "Actually, members provide support and understanding for one another that encourages frankness and self-analysis."

Group therapy meetings are held weekly, and last for one and a half hours. Fees are based on the regular agency fee scale for case work service (the same for both individual and group treatment).

The new fourth group will begin this week. Women interested in joining this group should contact Mrs. Coleman by writing to the Family Service Agency, 1117 South B street, San Mateo (or telephoning FI 1-2941).

It was announced that the California PTA convention will be held at the Hotel Mark Hopkins, San Francisco, on May 4, 5, 6.

Mrs. Mendel Plansky announced that 10 people had signed up for the proposed PTI course and any others in the district who wish to attend the class may phone her at PL 5-6849 for information.

The 17th district convention will be held on March 17 at 9 a.m. in San Mateo High School. Eight delegates will attend.

Ct. St. Mary Communion Set At OLPH

The annual Mass and Communion for members of Court St. Mary No. 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, will be held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Daly City on Sunday, March 27, at 8 a.m., according to an announcement made by Mrs. DeWitt Brunson, Grand Regent of the Court.

Father Matthew P. Sullivan, Court Chaplain, will be the celebrant.

Mrs. John L. Mackall, Share the Faith chairman, has secured Mrs. F. Albert Greene to be the guest speaker following the breakfast to be held at the parish hall after the Mass.

Mrs. Greene, better known as Grace Compagno in the musical world, is a composer of liturgical music and an organist of renown.

She inaugurated the "Living Rosary" under the guidance of Father Nail A. McCabe, after the dedication of the first California outdoor Shrine to Our Lady of Fatima in Larkspur, in 1949.

This association is now international. Last summer Pope John conferred his Apostolic blessing on all those associated with the Living Rosary. It was at that time that a morocco-bound book, containing names of nearly 10,000 members, was taken to Rome by Mr. and Mrs. Groene for presentation to the Holy Father.

Members of Court St. Mary participate in this devotion.

Mrs. William J. Drury is in charge of the breakfast particulars.

Panel Of Foreign-Born Students Impress Jeff High PTA Audience

Seven foreign students gave their views of American education at Jefferson High School PTA's regular meeting last Thursday night.

Peter Frank, social studies teacher, acted as moderator for the panel.

The girl students who participated were Livia Bignotti, Switzerland; Pat DeCuypere, Canada; Kay Peterson, Japan; and Mary Scheremetow, Ar-Argentina.

The boys were Otto Bos, The Netherlands; Victor Streyer, Austria; and Joe Vaez, Mexico.

The panel of students had great fun telling the audience about foreign schools, grading systems, hours of attendance, relationship of youth and teachers, and methods of teaching.

The group said many amusing things. Miss Bignotti stated that Swiss teachers and pupils shook hands upon greeting and leaving one another each day.

Bos said students in The Netherlands showed more respect for their teachers and stood up when the teacher entered the room.

Joe Vaez and Otto Bos agreed that newspapers shouldn't sensationalize teenage problems.

Vic Streyer said that since students must pay for their education, they cherish it more so than Americans.

Mrs. Mendel Plansky, chairman for the nominating committee announced the names of the new officers which were then voted upon and accepted by the PTA members. These were the Mesdames: Joseph Kusber, president; Mendel Plansky, vice president; Fred Pajkos, recording secretary; Alfred Marquez, treasurer; Howard Derham, financial secretary; Gene Andrus, corresponding secretary; Louis Duncan, historian; and Harry Ojakian, auditor.

Principal John Mongan is honorary vice-president.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Kusber preceding the program.

Mrs. Bernard Painchaud was in charge of the program. Mrs. Beatrice Greenameyer and Mrs. Frankie Hubby handled refreshments.

The April 7 PTA meeting will feature Joseph Vollbrecht, science teacher who spent a year studying in Europe.

WHAT'S DOING

W. L. Conkey, your Telephone Manager in Daly City

Telephone men wearing headsets aren't too unusual a sight in our business. Jim Maloney of 1360 South Mayfair, Daly City, makes final checks on newly installed phones to make sure they're ready to use. Also, from his special test desk he traces out trouble reports so repair men can get right on the job. You may never have occasion to see a deskman at work. But remember he's always ready to track down any sign of trouble on your line and help keep your telephone a service you can count on.

The last place you might expect to find coal is in your telephone. But it's there, all right. In each telephone mouthpiece there are tiny coal granules that change voice waves into waves of electric current. Phone people are very particular about this coal—they get a special, handpicked anthracite from Pennsylvania. First, it's crushed, ground, sifted and sorted. Next, it's washed, rinsed, dried, tested for cleanliness and roasted 24 hours at temperatures up to 2048° F. Then it's cooled, tested again, and stored for six months before it's used. Sound complicated? Yes! But it's just one of the ways we work to make your telephone more dependable — more valuable to you.

Birthdays, anniversaries, and other special occasions for family and friends seem always to be popping up. Much as we'd like to, we often can't be there in person to deliver best wishes. And that's when a long [illegible]istance call can mean so [illegible]h. If you've received [illegible] on a special day [illegible]eone far away, [illegible]what I mean. Mariner Girls In Flag Rites At Jefferson

More than a dozen Senior Mariner Girl Scouts proudly wore their sailor-blue uniforms to school each day of Girl Scout week, March 6-12.

Every morning the Mariners at Jefferson High School marched an a group to the flag pole on the school grounds and there they elevated three flags — American, Californian, and the Mariner's. As the flags were raised, bugle taps were played and students on the campus paused for a moment of reverance.

It is believed that this is the first such Mariner group at Jefferson to perform this ceremony.

Among the Mariner Scouts who attend Jefferson are: Judy Anderson, Marilyn Brown, Pam Button, Dianne DeBrune, Diane Calvin, Diana Davison, Penny Goulden, Marsha Ojakian, Arlene Plansky, Carolyn Reimche, Joann and Dolores Spinetti, Loretta Dursam, and Rhea Stafford.

✚ TEEN TALK ✚

By Joe Bavaresco

Hi again—Tween Twelve and Twenty is a dangerous age. I'll explain one of the reasons now:

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

May I thank you for your statement about teenage drinking. I am 16 years old and considered very popular. We kids, many, many of us, would like to start a campaign against teenage drinking. Are you with us? How do we do it? My boyfriend goes on these "drink ups" and it makes me sick to see him make a fool of himself. Please help me set him straight.

A Non-Drinker-Upper

Dear Non-Drinker-Upper:

I'm all for a non-drinker teenage campaign. In fact, I'm going to launch this campaign with a column dedicated to that point.

You are right, kids do make "fools" of themselves when they drink. But so do all adults. First of all, why do guys and girls drink up? Why? Because they think they're being Joe College playing it cool. Like man, how wrong can you be? Like get wise. Kids that drink up think it makes them adults because they see adults do it; therefore, they feel adult when they do it. But who are the people who do all the complaining?

"The adults who set the example," that's who complain. I was talking to two adults in a super-market last week, who also read the column and they said "teenage drinking is a real problem, where do teenager get such ideas?"

On close inspection of their market basket it was funny to notice three cartons of six-packs and a fifth of whisky. "Where do teenagers get such ideas? Look in your own market basket before you end up with your foot in your mouth. You adults who are supposed to set an example, it is you who are responsible.

Television and movies show all the cute actions of drinkers. How cute people are when they are plastered, stoned and potted. The cut things people say and do in this inebriated state. Everyone laughs at it. How funny are all the comedy routines on LP records of the morning after the night before. How funny they act when they have the world-famous hangover.

Isn't he cute with his cute and clever filthy sayings? Oh, but it's all right if he talks filthy. It's what all adults do when they're stoned. Movies always portray the drunk to be a cute and clever person. So since most teenagers would like to be cute and clever, the answer is "get plastered." You adults, who do so much darn complaining had better look in the mirror and take a look at the examples these poor teenagers have to follow. Yes, poor teenagers! Don't be so quick to ridicule the product you helped to mold.

These kids only are trying to be adults. Yet it is the kid who is dragged into the police station in the darkness of night. Not his wonderful examples. They have no fears. They're 21, safe behind tavern doors. The adults who set the examples are the ones who should be judged.

"People are a product of their environment." Question: Where do kids get the liquor? Where? I'll tell you. In the friendly corner store. Yes, the sweet little store that is so hurt financially by the big markets that it doesn't question a kid who comes in and says, "My folks want a six-pack." All that is required of many stores is a note from home. Now really, isn't that a little ridiculous? I'm not saying all little stores do this; there are only a few that do sell liquor to kids. Most all stores say emphatically "No." These persons are to be highly commended. But the few that do sell should be closed, not just warned or fined, but closed.

While in that same market I spoke of before, a teenage guy bought groceries and along with the groceries, was a six-pack. The clerk didn't even question the kid. I have dedicated my life to helping youngsters. I will fight for them and stick up for them with all I have in me. So when I hear an adult cut them down, the adult must answer to me and my answer is always, "Look, Mr. and Mrs. America, look at the example you have set for the tenager to follow."

So don't blame the teenagers for their so-called faults. These faults were taught to them by you. Don't try to pass the buck, Mr. and Mrs. John Public, because no matter how you try to do it, you'll always get change, and the change will be on you conscience—you have to live with it.

Mr. Bavaresco has recently started the T.N.D.C. (Teenagers Non-Drinkers Club). If you would like a membership card to enjoy the privileges extended or have any ideas for stamping out teenage drinking, write a letter to Joe Bavaresco, Camp Meeker, California.

Thought for the Week—"Today's teenage drinker is tomorrow's skid row thinker."

* * *

I want to thank everyone with all my heart for the hundreds of get-well cards and letters I received since my recent accident. I'm sure my recovery would have been delayed considerably if it were not for the many well wishes — God bless you all!

Joe Bavaresco.

Girl Scout Leaders Cite Observances

Mrs. Hilda Heagney, veteran Girl Scout leader for 15 years, gave a talk on the value of international relationship among the Scouts of the many nations.

Senior Mariner Scouts in Mrs. Margaret Damon's Ship 13 who have just completed a course in First Aid, are available as aides to any troops that may need them.

Any interested women who would like to become Girl Scout leaders may get information by phoning Mrs. Spinetti PL 5-2776.

Red Cross Chapters In Midst Of Vital Membership Drive

The nine Red Cross chapters in the five San Francisco Bay Area counties have joined together for the first time in promoting the organization's traditional March Membership Month.

Chairmen of the nine chapters regard this year's drive as one of the most critical in the organization's history because "for several years there has been an alarming decline in the American public's response to Red Cross appeals, and this has occurred during a period of rising costs and increasing demands for Red Cross services."

The also point out that the increases in the number of disasters in recent years has meant larger and more expensive relief operations—a total of $73,000,000 in the past five years which is only $10,000,000 less than the entire amount of funds raised by Red Cross last year.

Albert E. Schlesinger, Golden Gate Chapter Membership Chairman, stated that "although many in the Bay Area renew their Red Cross memberships through United Crusade gifts, there is a definite need of direct renewals during March to meet local and national quotas." Golden Gate Chapter needs for the 1960-61 fiscal year are $1,274,000 with approximately 85% of this amount already raised by the United Crusade. Principle solicitation in the five county drive will be by direct mail.

Red Cross volunteers drive victims of cancer, muscular dystrophy, and cerebral palsy; convalescent servicemen, blind children, and many others; others teach free classes in home nursing, first aid, mother-and-baby care, swimming, life saving, and boating; others bring cheer to patients in community and military hospitals; and others type, file, and do the thousands of clerical jobs necessary to keep the wheels humming in the city's largest service organization.

Over 85,000 letters have been mailed by the nine Bay Area chapters to "special friends of the Red Cross" asking for membership renewals. Those wishing to renew should mail their checks to their nearest Bay Area chapter.

Filing Period Begins For Vet Tax Exemptions

Monday, March 7 was the opening of the period in which veterans may file with County Assessor Ralph F. Woodman for the $1,000 property tax exemption, it was pointed out today by San Mateo County Veterans' Service Officer,, Floyd D. Granger. The assessor's office is located on the second floor of the courthouse in Redwood City.

California grants $1,000 tax exemptions to resident veterans of wars or campaigns, including women veterans. Eligibility is limited to veterans who do not own property with an assessed value of $5,000 or more, although under the community property law he and his wife together may own property up to an assessed value of $10,000 and still be eligible.

The service officer noted that the filing period is shorter this year, under a law passed at the 1959 session of the state legislature. The filing period now runs from the first Monday in March (March 7) to the first Monday in May (May 2). Prior to this year, veterans had until the last Monday in May to claim the exemption.

Veterans are warned that if they intend to file for the exemption on any property they own or are buying, they must have the deed or contract of sale recorded before March 7. A veteran cannot get an exemption on property not assessed to him. It must be owned, claimed, possessed or managed by the veteran at noon on the first Monday in March to have it assessed to him.

Furthermore, tax exemption requests must be renewed each year.

Exemption requests must also be filed with the City Assessor if the veteran owns property within the city limits.

Wives or veterans may file on behalf of the veteran if it is more convenient.

Vista Mar Pupils Hear DC Pioneer

Henry Sundermann, a Daly City pioneer and former city council member, brought early Daly City and its development to life for the boys and girls at Vista Mar School in Westlake last week.

A close friend of John Daly, Sundermann had many interesting stories to relate to the students of the three third grade classes of Mrs. Jane Cain Miss Mary O'Rourks, and Mrs. Helyn Dilbeck. Pictures of the Daly Dairy Ranch, Mr. Daly, the first public library, and the famous Britt-Nelson fight of 1904 highlighted Sundermann's interesting presentation.

The third grade classes are studying a unit on San Mateo County, and Daly City as these places developed from the days of the missions until the present.

GALILEO BLANKED, 2-0

Ram Horsehiders Win Four Straight Tilts

Westmoor's horsehiders won their fourth consecutive practice game, the second by a shutout, by white-washing Galileo, 2-0, at the Rams' field last Thursday.

The Rams parlayed two walks, to Rich Morales and Bill Reynolds, and line shot double by Terry Christman into the only runs of the tilt. Christman's right field line blast was the only hit for Westmoor. The Rams garnered nine walks off the fourth straight left hander they've faced in practice games.

Don Katona continued to surprise Coach Rod Losberger even though he didn't get the pitching win. Katona twirled five innings, allowing but one hit. He has now given up but two hits in nine innings while striking out 10.

Cornell Holmes chucked 1 2/3 innings for the victory, though he needed help from Dick Reese who retired the last batter with two Lion runners on base.

Losberger may have lost good reserve strength last Monday when it was found that utility shortstop-outfielder Dan O'Connor broke his hand during a practice session. O'Connor, a regular for two years with a .281 mark last annum, will be out of action for some time.

Westmoor committed three errors during the Galileo game, but two double plays got them out of trouble. Catcher Ed Walthard's fling to Rich Morales also picked a runner off third base. The play nipped a budding rally in the fourth inning as Cal had runners on second and third with no outs.

The Rams travel to San Francisco State this Friday for a contest with that school's JV's. They also played Acalanes High last Tuesday.

WESTMOOR'S golfers tied for the Peninsula League crown with San Mateo last year. Holding the co-champions plaque is 16-year-old Bob Snyder, outstanding Ram linksman. Left to right are Marty Seelig, Jim Roman, Snyder, Sam Malta and Mike Seelig. Only two of the five boys are seniors, Roman and Malta. THE RECORD photo

Jefferson tracksters selected team captains for the upcoming 1960 year. John Margaroni and Bob Alverio were the choices.

Margaroni, a senior, runs the 100 yard dash, 200, relay, 800 relay and broadjumps. Alverio, a junior in his final year of track eligibility, runs the mile and half mile. Last year's track captains were Felix Valdez and Charles Rivera.

Maps are known to have been used since about 3800 B.C., when impressions were made by hand on clay tablets to show part of Mesopotamia.

WESTMOOR TO HOST LEAGUE RELAYS FRIDAY

Westmoor will host more than 300 participants for the annual Peninsula League Relays which will be held Friday afternoon.

Coach Ernie Ribera figures San Mateo to be the favorites "though we should be strong contenders." The Bearcats and Rams tied for league honors last year.

The relay meet consists not only of running events but field events as well. Ribera says each team will have three boys listed for each event. "We hope to look strongest in the mile and sprint relays," he said. His mile hopes rest with Jim Sershen, George Herbst, Jim Buccelli and Pete Daniels.

Stockton Lions To Hold Sport Car Races Next Week

"Something Entertaining for Everyone" is the slogan for the 1960 Stockton Lions Club Races on March 26-27.

Proceeds from the Stockton races go to various Lions charity and community service funds, such as aid to blind and children's recreation.

LOWELL EDGES JEFF VARSITY BY 10 POINTS

Hampered by high winds and the absence of several regulars, Jeff High's varsity tracksters lost a practice meet with Lowell of San Francisco, 61½-51½, Tuesday last week.

Jeff's 30's, paced by soph Jim Belvin's winning broadjump and 75-yard dash, defeated Lowell, 72-28. The Indian 20's lost, 67½-18½.

Jeff Frosh-Soph Nine Wins Behind Miller's Hurling

Bob Miller stole the show during Jeff's frosh-soph baseball opener against Riordan last week.

Miller pitched hitless ball for four innings and crashed a two-run homer while leading his mates to an 8-5 win at Marchbanks Park. He walked four and struck out six. Dar Haanen was touched for the five runs, three of them earned.

Coach Harry Vaplon substituted freely after Jeff got off to a commanding 8-0 lead at the end of four innings. While Miller supplied the big blows, a double and homer, Mike Mortan had two runs batted in on a bases loaded single and Rich Reitz cracked 3 for 4.

Riordan had 5 hits and 6 errors, while Jeff had 7 bingles and 3 miscues.

'Wonders Of The Tulip' Feature Show

At the recent regular meeting of the South San Francisco Women's Club in their clubhouse at 470 Grand avenue, the Garden Section became hostess for the club's entire membership as it does traditionally every year.

A special feature was an amusing original skit "The Wonders of the Tulip," all about a marvelous tulip and a cacti—written by Mrs. John Cotrozos and enacted by garden section members. Those who took parts were the Mesdames John Cotrozos, Fred Curtis, Ed Hoskinson, James Howard, Harry Leitner, Eva Peltier and James Wallace.

The annual Parade of Hats made of fresh garden flowers and worn by their designers, excited comments. The judges, Loretta Hussar and the Mesdames Richard Jordan and E. P. Kauffmann, awarded prizes to the Mesdames James Howard as creating the most beautiful hat; Ed Hoskinson as designing the most original hat; and to Fred Keil Jr. as wearing the most amusing.

Another part of this program is the sale of plants grown by the garden section. A large table was laden with approximately 100 plants.

Two additional sections have been organized within the South San Francisco Woman's Club and will offer new interest to many members. One will be a bridge group that plays "with no serious intent" under the chairmanship of Mrs. Sherman Nash. The second group will be "P.M. Discussion Group" under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry Farros.
